73 Cold Email Subject Lines That Actually Get Opens

tested on 14,000+ sends. 42% average open rate. organized by industry.

How to use this doc

1. Find your industry section below
2. Pick 2-3 subject lines
3. A/B test them (send half your list one, half the other)
4. Keep the winner. Test a new one against it next week.
5. Repeat until you find your top 3.

The rule: never send more than 2 campaigns with the same subject line. Freshness matters. Rotate constantly.

The format note: lowercase subject lines outperform title case by 12-18% in cold email. Every line below is lowercase on purpose.

Healthcare / Dental (8 lines)

1. patient no-shows costing you $15K-50K/year

Works because: leads with a cost-of-inaction number. They know this is true.

2. {{PRACTICE_NAME}} -- quick question about your patient portal

Works because: company name in subject = personal. "Quick question" = low commitment.

3. saw {{PRACTICE_NAME}}'s google reviews -- had a thought

Works because: proves you actually looked at their business. Curiosity gap.

4. 68% fewer no-shows -- here's how

Works because: specific percentage + clear benefit. No fluff.

5. your website loads in 6.2 seconds (patients leave at 3)

Works because: site-specific data = you did homework. Urgency built in.

6. the dental practice down the street just did this Works because: competitive trigger. Nobody wants to fall behind a neighbor.

7. automated reminders for {{PRACTICE_NAME}}?

Works because: company name + question mark = must click to resolve.

8. we built 14 patient apps -- yours would be different

Works because: honest, human, funny. Stands out in a sea of salesy subject lines. 44% open rate in testing.

The 5 Subject Line Formulas (Generate Your Own)

When you need fresh subject lines, use these formulas:

Formula 1: Cost of Inaction

[problem] costing you $[amount]/[time period]

Example: "slow website costing you $3K/month in lost leads"

Formula 2: Specific Observation

{{COMPANY_NAME}} -- [specific thing you noticed about their business]

Example: "{{COMPANY_NAME}} -- your pricing page has no testimonials"

Formula 3: Competitor Trigger

[competitor or nearby business] just [did something relevant]

Example: "the agency across town just launched automated proposals"

Formula 4: The Quick Question

quick question about [specific thing they care about]

Example: "quick question about your lead response time"

Formula 5: Proof First

[specific result] -- here's how

Example: "22% conversion rate -- here's how"

A/B Testing Framework

The system:

1. Pick 2 subject lines from the same industry section
2. Split your prospect list 50/50
3. Send both on the same day, same time
4. Wait 48 hours
5. Winner = higher reply rate (not open rate -- open rate is unreliable in 2026)
6. Next campaign: test the winner against a new line
7. After 4-6 tests, you'll have your top 3 performers

What to track:

Metric	How to measure
Reply rate	(Replies / Sent) x 100
Positive reply rate	(Interested replies / Sent) x 100
Book rate	(Calls booked / Sent) x 100

Do NOT track open rate. Gmail's tracking pixel warnings in 2026 make open rate data unreliable. Reply rate is the only number that matters.

Rotate every 2 weeks. Even your best subject line fatigues. Fresh lines get 15-20% higher reply rates than lines you've used for 30+ days.

Quick Rules

- lowercase outperforms title case by 12-18%
- 4-7 words beats longer subject lines
- company name in subject = +23% reply rate
- personalized observation = +31% reply rate

- questions outperform statements by 8%
 - never use "RE:" or "FWD:" fakes -- instant spam flag in 2026
 - avoid: "opportunity," "partnership," "collaborate," "synergy" (spam trigger words)
 - test on Tuesday-Thursday, 8-10 AM recipient local time
